Why is it important to live a healthier life and reduce your risk of developing Type 2 Diabetes?

This Event

During this 30 minute event, you'll pick up tips on how to lead a healthy lifestyle, take part in a stress busting exercise, and understand what free support is available for adults at high risk of developing diabetes.

How to check your risk level

You may be at a higher risk of developing Type 2 Diabetes if you are overweight or physically inactive. You can find out your diabetes risk level today in just 5 minutes by going to know-your-risk-tool and answering 7 simple questions about yourself.

Adults found to be at risk of developing diabetes can access free support in a peer group or through a one-to-one online service through the Healthier You NHS Diabetes Prevention Programme.

Support Available

Living Well Taking Control is the local provider of the Healthier You NHS Diabetes Prevention Programme in your area. The programme helps adults at risk of developing Type 2 Diabetes to reduce their risk level by:

- Sticking to a healthier diet
- Doing more exercise
- Improving their emotional wellbeing and managing their stress
- Maintaining a healthy weight through sustainable lifestyle changes
